Contents

Table of Citations .......................................................... page xi
Acknowledgments ............................................................. xxiv
Foreword ................................................................. xxv
Preface .................................................................. xxviii

1. Introduction ................................................................. 1

2. The Formation and Transformation of the Status of International and Domestic Arbitration in the United States ...................... 6
   A. The Historically Conventional View of Arbitration in the United States 6
   B. Homegrown Skepticism of Arbitral Proceedings 8

   Level Playing Field ........................................................ 15
   A. Wilko v. Swan ......................................................... 15
   B. Scherk v. Alberto-Culver: A Non-Reversal Reversal and a Look at M/S
      The Bremen v. Zapata ................................................ 20
   C. Mitsubishi v. Soler Chrysler-Plymouth: The Final Decisive Paradigm 30
   D. The Reversal of Wilko v. Swan: Time for a New Paradigm 33

   Evidence v. Common Law Discovery .................................. 38
   A. Section 1782 and Its Elements ..................................... 38
   B. Intel Corp. v. Advanced Micro Devices: Discovery Is Engrained Upon Arbitration and Change Reshapes the Horizon ............... 42
   C. Intel Corp.: A Closer Look ......................................... 44

5. The Gathering of Evidence v. Common Law Discovery ........... 51
   A. In Re: Roz Trading Ltd. ............................................ 51
   B. The Orthodox Misconception of Common Law Discovery
      in International Arbitration ........................................ 55
   C. Discovery in Aid of Execution of a Non-U.S. Arbitral Award: No Longer an Outlandish Proposition .................................. 56
   D. The Pitfalls in In Re: Patricio Clerici: Discovery in Aid of a Non-U.S.
      Arbitral Award ...................................................... 58
6. What Has Really Happened? The Effects of a Trilogy Examined ............... 62
   A. Rediscovering Discovery in International Arbitral Proceedings and the Principle of Party-Autonomy 62

7. The New Unorthodox Conception of Common Law Discovery
   in International Arbitration ........................................... 67
   A. The IBA Rules on the Taking of Evidence in International
      Commercial Arbitration 68
   B. A Review of the Rules of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce 77
   C. Revisiting the Rules of the International Centre for Dispute Resolution 80
   D. The Rules of the London Court of International Arbitration 82

8. And Now How Do We Avoid 28 U.S.C. Section 1782 in International
   Commercial Arbitration? ............................................ 86
   A. The First Paradigm 87
      (i) The Consequences of Refusal and Manifest Disregard of the Law 88
   B. The Dufenco Analysis 96
   C. Order Out of Chaos: The Need for a Uniform Standard for “Manifest Disregard of the Law” Beyond Mere Intuition 102
   D. Halligan v. Piper Jaffray 104
   E. New York Telephone Co. v. Communications Workers of America 108
   F. United States Steel & Carnegie Pension Fund v. John McSkimming 109
   G. Yet Another Paradigm: Patton v. Signature Ins. Agency 110
   H. Montes v. Shearman Lehman Bros., Inc.: A Literal Paradigm 112
   I. The Second Paradigm: Avoiding Section 1782 116

9. Perjury & Arbitration: The Honor System Where the Arbitrators
   Have the Honor and the Parties Have the System ....................... 118

10. Developments in the Apportionment of Jurisdiction Between Arbitrators and Courts Concerning the Validity of a Contract Containing an Arbitration Clause, and Transformations Regarding the Severability Doctrine ............................................ 129
    A. Who Decides the Validity of a Contract Having an Arbitration Clause:
       Judge or Arbitrator? 130

11. U.S. Arbitration Law and Its Dialogue with the New York Convention:
    The Development of Four Issues .................................... 151
    A. Nonsignatories to Agreements to Arbitrate 152
    B. Jurisdiction to Enforce 160
    C. Forum Non Conveniens: A Nightmare of Unpredictability? 166
    D. Annulled Awards and the In Re: Chromalloy, Baker Marine, and TemorRio Trio 170

Conclusion ............................................................. 188

Appendix A  Duelo a Garrotazos ...................................... 191

Appendix B  Selected Cases ........................................... 192
Appendix C  The New York Convention, The Federal Arbitration Act, and 28 U.S.C. §1782 ......................................................... 312
Appendix D  Amendments to 28 U.S.C. §1782 ............................... 326
Appendix E  Selected Rules of Civil Procedure ............................. 327
Appendix F  Geneva Convention of 1927 ..................................... 348
Appendix G  Selections from the Legislative History of the Federal Arbitration Act ................................................................. 352

Index  .................................................................................. 401